

Saturday / 19 / 10:00 AM Test Of English As A Foreign Language (TOEFL) Prepare for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) a standardized test to measure the English language ability of non-native speakers wishing to enroll in English-speaking universities, In this 13 week class you will learn the information you'll need to know for the exam. Registration is required (click on Saturday March 5th to Register). You will need the following book for this class: Longman Preparation Course for the TOEFL iBT Test with Answer Key 3rd Edition by Deborah Phillips (Author)It is available in our catalogue. Instructor Eric Arbogast has been involved with the TOEFL exam for 35 years, both preparing students for the exam as well as working for the ETS company as a "TOEFL essay reader." He started his career and worked as both an English as a Second Language teacher and a TOEFL Essay Reader in Japan. He has been a Westchester Community College teacher since 1992.

Sunday / 20 / 2:00 PM Virtual Soccer For Teens An app called "Rocket League" is essentially soccer with virtual cars, and it is currently a popular eSport. Teens can sign up to play with friends in a safe, private server, hosted by Digital Media Specialist Austin Olney. Please register for the event here (be sure to include your email address) and the appropriate joining information will be sent in a timely manner.

Monday / 21 / All Day Grab & Go Kit - Grades 7-12 Craft Kits - Available Starting Today Pick up a new Grab & Go Kit at the library, while supplies last, starting today.

Monday / 21 / All Day Grab & Go Kit - PreK - Available Starting Today Pick up a new PreK Grab & Go Kit at the Library, while supplies last, starting today. Kits will be in a bin in the Library's lobby. Please take only what you need so Kits will be available for others.

Tuesday / 22 / 11:00 AM Virtual Storytime (Ages 2-6, Families) Stories, songs and fun for ages 2-6 with a Trove librarian. NOTE: A free, registered Zoom account is needed to join any youth-focused Zoom program. Creating an account is easy and free <http://zoom.us/signup>.

Tuesday / 22 / 7:00 PM Hollywood's Golden Age Of Self-Censorship From the 1930s to the 1960s, Hollywood censored itself. The Production Code is often remembered as a quaint document that ensured married couples slept in separate beds on screen. But the Production Code was a more complex contract between Hollywood and its diverse global audience. It led filmmakers to create a code for representing sex, violence, and extreme politics. And it helped Hollywood navigate the depression, the rise of Nazism, Soviet communism, World War II, the Cold War, and the Sixties. In late 1960s, Hollywood could no longer make films to address one global audience, and the industry moved from the Production Code to the Rating System. The code ended, but in many ways, the visual language created by the Production Code still informs the way stories are told on screen. Peter Decherney is Professor of Cinema & Media Studies and Faculty Director of the Online Learning Initiative at the University of Pennsylvania. He holds a secondary appointment at the Annenberg School for Communication and an affiliation with the Center for Technology, Innovation, and Competition at Penn Law School. He is an award-winning documentary and virtual reality filmmaker, who has shot films in Africa, Asia, and the U.S. His virtual reality docuseries, "The Heart of Puerto Rico," about artists in Puerto Rico after Hurricane Maria (co-directed with Jean Lee) won the Best VR Film at the AT&T Film Awards. And his documentary, "Dreaming of Jerusalem" (co-directed with Sosena Solomon), about the Jewish Community in Gondar, Ethiopia was a Discovery+ original. He is the author or editor of six books including Hollywood's Copyright Wars: From Edison to the Internet and Hollywood: A Very Short Introduction. Prof. Decherney has also written for The New York Times, Forbes, Inside Higher Ed, and other publications.

Tuesday / 22 / 7:00 PM Know The 10 Signs & Understanding Alzheimer's Alzheimer's and other dementias cause memory, thinking, and behavior changes that interfere with daily living. Learn about common warning signs of Alzheimer's and what symptoms to look for in yourself and others, as well as tips to approach someone who is experiencing changes in their memory, the benefit of early detection and diagnosis, and more.

Wednesday / 23 / 12:00 PM Lunchtime Meditation @ The Library Brief beginning instruction followed by meditation. No experience needed. A variety of guest instructors will lead the program.

Wednesday / 23 / 2:00 PM Zoom Tips And Tricks (Digital Learning) Participants of this session will learn tips and tricks for attending (and hosting) Zoom events. Beginners are encouraged, all are welcome.